LOUIS BROWNE'S TALK ON RELIGION

We listened with anticipation last evening to Ex-Rabbi Browne's much advertised lecture on Religion, with the hope that we might hear something new. Browne is the author of a book entitled, "This Believing World," and at the close of his talk the sum total of the impression was "This Unbelieving Jew."

With rather an attractive personality in some respects, and with some light wit, Mr. Browne presented his theme to the audience in rather a pleasing manner, and had close attention. To one who had made anything like a thorough study of religions, however, the conclusion at the close of his talk must have been that there was in it nothing new whatever.

His characterization of Christianity in the beginning of his talk as "a system of ethics," thus placing Jesus Christ and Christianity in a class with Buddah, Confucius, Mohammed and their systems, was merely characteristic of his type of rationalism.

Zoroaster says, "There is the way"; Buddah says, "Here is the way"; Confucious says, "This is the way;" Mohammed says, "That is the way"—but Jesus Christ says with Divine authority, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." And that makes all the difference in the world between Christ and other teachers, and between the Christian and all other religions.

The substance of the Golden Rule of Christ he represented as having been taught by Zoroaster, Budda, Confucius, and others, many centuries before Christ on earth. With this the most orthodox Christian theologina will agree; in fact the Bible plainly teaches that the law of God was written on the hearts of men, and the speaker is right in his conclusion that no age or generation has any monopoly on

SUCCESSOR OF DR. YOUNGBLOOD TO TAKE CHARGE HERE ON MAY 1

Acting Director of Agricultural Station Became Associated With Department 24 Years Ago; Is Graduate in Science in A. and M. College in the Class of 1904

(Special to the Bryan Eagle).

COLLEGE STATION, March 28.— A.B. Connor, acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, A. and M. College of Texas, since July 1, 1926, has been named director of the station to succeed Dr. B. Youngblood, resigned, President T. O. Walton of the college has just announced. Mr. Conner will assume full supervision of the station's activities May 1.

LONG EXPERIENCE

In succeeding to the directorship of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Mr. Conner will become the head of a service with which he first became associated 24 years ago when he was placed in charge of field experiments at the main station farm here. This was June 1, 1904, just after he had received his B. S. degree in agriculture from the A. and M. College of Texas. The Texas station, then in its infancy, was a comparatively small organization at the time. Today inventory of the station property is in excess of $1,164,000 and the staff includes 105 scientific workers devoting their full time energies to agricultural research.

The selection of Mr. Conner as the new head of the Experiment Station marks the final step in a chain of increasingly important duties with the station that he has been chosen to assume since his first connection with the service. From March 1, 1905, to Nov. 1911, he was scientific assistant, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in charge of forage crop testing station. Chil-

Parent-Teachers' To Sponsor Show

As their contribution to "Better Amusements in Bryan," the West Side Parent-Teacher Association is planning to sponsor a two-day run of the picture version of James M. Barrie's "The Little Minister," at the Queen Theater on April 25 and 26.

The production runs under a film title of "Quality Street," but the story is a film adaptation of "The Little Minister," and the committee has full assurance that none of the high literary, dramatic or moral value of Barrie's classic is lost in the picturization. The story has not been modernized, but will be shown in costumes historically correct throughout.

Many picture theatre patrons will remember how well the picturization of "Peter Pan" was received here some months ago, and knowing this picture to be adopted from a story written by the same author, will need no further assurance of its value as clean wholesome entertainment, with the finest of literary, dramatic and moral qualities.

Tickets may be secured from any of the following members of the West Side association: Mesdames Chas. Hillier, J. M. Boriskie, R. R. Reppert, M. R. Bentley, W. P. Moore, and grade mothers as follows: First grade, Mrs. N. Goodman, Mrs. Ole Martinsen, second grade, Mrs. W. C. Ruchti, Mrs. Hy T. Schovajsa; third grade, Mrs. N. Goodman, Mrs. F. H. Pierson; fourth grade, Mrs. P. S. Mangum, Mrs. Hal Haltom; fifth grade, Mrs. J. E. Brown; sixth grade, Mrs. Norman Stewart, Mrs. W. Griffin; seventh grade, Mrs. W. S. Barron, Mrs. Jim Godwin.

Countryman probably will start J. D. Wyman, veteran twirler of the Aggies from Cleburne, on the mound in the opening game, with Lackey as catcher. Hellums may also get some service from the pitcher's mound in the opening game. It is possible that Sikes will pitch in the second game. Countryman has a good string of pitchers to depend on for the coming season, others on the list including Gorman, Harris and Kasprowicz.

The starting line-up of the Aggies for other positions will likely be: Sikes, first base; Blount, second base; Bernhard, third base; Hunt, shortstop; Broiles, center field. If the Owls use a lefthanded pitcher, Countryman will probably place Dittman and Wendt in the other outfield positions, while Conover and Bray will likely play in the outfield with Broiles if the Owls put a right hander in the pitcher's box.

Dr. Wharton states that he will also make examination for parasites, such as tape worm found in rats and rabbits, etc., the tape worm in rats being one that may be transmitted to man. All carcasses furnished will have to be either alive or fresh. There is no good reason why hearty cooperation should not be given this request made by Dr. Wharton since it is in the interest of the health and safety of the public.

TWO CARS HEAD BIG LIST OF AWARDS WITH DISRICT PRIZES EVERYBODY WINS IN THIS RACE

Nash Special 6 Sedan and Chevrolet Coach Are Major Awards, Campaign Begins at Once and Lasts Only 6 Weeks; Now Is Time to Start, It Costs Nothing to Enter or to Win

Picture this summer with a brand new car of your own, ready to take you speedily and comfortably wherever you want to go. Then imagine the monotony of a long hot summer without a car at all.

Imagine a hot sultry Saturday afternoon in mid-summer with the sun beating down unmercifully, then think of the pleasures of hopping into your own car and stepping on the gas and heading for Galveston, where the cool Gulf breezes blow, and a dip in the cooling waters of the Gulf.

You may have a brand new car, without one cent of cost to you for your pleasure trips this summer, or a $150.00 Diamond Ring, or $100.00 in Gold to take your summer vacation on, or a commission check of an interesting size. Which do you want?

Opportunity is knocking at the doors of the residents of Bryan and the surrounding territory and is paging ME particularly and The Daily Eagle is backing every lavish promise this liberal goddess is making.

Opportunity—MY opportunity is here.

That's what the big announcement appearing in today's Eagle means to you and every resident of Brazos, Grimes, Burleson, Robertson, Leon and Madison counties.

The offer is so stupendous and the terms so liberal that on first thought it might stagger the credulity of those who read it. But it is all true and in just a few short weeks many people in Bryan and the adjoining territory will be the recipients of over $5,000.00 in rich and valuable awards.

To sum it up briefly, the plan is this:

The Bryan Daily and Weekly Eagle will distribute two brand new automobiles as follows:

A 1928 Nash Special 6 four door sedan, purchased from Lawrence Motor Co.

A 1928 Chevrolet coach, purchased from D. D. White & Co., Chevrolet dealers.

One of these fine cars will go to someone residing right in the City of Bryan and the other one will go to someone residing outside, either in Brazos, Grimes, Robertson, Burleson, Leon or Madison counties. So there is a car for each district and below the cars a separate list of prizes as follows:

District Prizes

Then the regular awards for the city of Bryan, District 1, are as follows:

One $150.00 Diamond Ring, purchased from and on display at Caldwell's Jewelry Store.

One $50.00 Gruen Wrist Watch, purchased from and on display at Caldwell's Jewelry Store.

And as many cash commission checks as there are active club members in this district.

Then there is the extra added award of $50.00 in gold as a special prize for the club member from this district who turn in the greatest number of new subscription sales up to May 9.

And the regular awards for the country outside of Bryan, District 2, are:

One $150.00 Diamond Ring purchased from and on display at

American Legion Joins With St. Anthony's Catholic Church In A Memorial Service Here On Sunday

Delighted by a beautiful spring day, after so many weeks of bad weather, the memorial service of the General Armando Diaz took place in St. Anthony's Catholic church of Bryan on Sunday March 25. The church was crowded with Italians and Americans could hardly contain the mass of the people who accepted the kind invitation. The sympathetic attendance of the American Legion of Bryan which met in a body at the church hall, gave an atmosphere of majesty to the meeting.

The catafalque on which shown a large portrait of the departed marshal was decorated with rich ferns mingled with beautiful pink carnations. Two veterans of the war, namely John Patronella and C. A. Baker Jr., president of the American Legion of Bryan, held held the flags of the two allied nations. After mass Rev. B. Bravi, pastor of St. Anthony's church, and himself a veteran of the great war, addressed the numerous assembly, in English, and in Italian, expressing deep appreciation and warm thanksgiving to the American Legion of Bryan for the great honor bestowed upon him and his congregation by its presence at the memorial service. We immigrants, Father Bravi said, are proud of Diaz because his name is united to the glorious events from which has risen the first spark of the new Italian life. We are proud to be associated in this commemoration with the great American people who entered the war to bring on the balance of the allied armies the weight of the common victory. May God help us in carrying on in time of peace the same principles which united us in time of war, working together for the betterment of mankind and for the peace of the world.

The requiem high mass was celebrated by Father Bravi and the music was rendered by the choir of St. Anthony's church under the able direction of Mary Vitopil. Father Bravi takes this opportunity to express his heart-felt appreciation to the citizens of Bryan and the American Legion for the admirable response to his appeal and for cooperation in making the event a success.

Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was a Bryan visitor recently. Mr. Wade has made an excellent secretary for the pioneer regional Chamber of Commerce in Texas. These regional organizations are now necessary since competition exists between sections as well as between cities and towns for growth and development. The advertising that this organization has given West Texas in the past few years has done much to enable it to recover the intense drought of a few years ago which wrecked the farmers and paralyzed the cities and towns.

The cattle men of West Texas, meeting at Amarillo, were praised this week by Governor Dan Moody for solving their own problems. The cattle industry became weary of waiting upon the federal government for relief and cured their own ills. Some day we will all realize that our government, constructed as it is, can do little to remedy agricultural conditions. The change for betterment must come from within and not from without. The Biblical quotation about the Almighty helping those who help themselves applies to agriculture.

During the 17 years that he has been here, Dr. B. Youngblood, head of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, has been of invaluable service to the A. and M. College and to the people of Texas. Few men in Texas are as well equipped to discharge their life's duties as Dr. Youngblood and his resignation is keenly regretted.

It now appears certain that Bryan Avenue, long an eyesore here, will be paved. This will give us seven miles of paved road from A. and M. College to the north end of the city limits. No constructive piece of improvement has been needed more here than the paving of this road.

Secretary Davis admits that the unemployment situation in the United States is serious. The United States is beginning to taste what has been familiar to England and France for many years. One of England's chief governmental expenses has been the care of the unemployed and poor.

The League of Nations has a hard time keeping some of the smaller countries in line, but if they back out they remain in calling distance. The League of Nations is rendering a good service without the United States; it would render a great service with the United States.

At every cotton meeting held in the South the need of cotton acreage reducation is stressed. Cotton factors from over the nation, who are meeting in Galveston, have announced that the only way to raise the price of cotton is to lower the acreage. This is sound economics.

The rat killing campaign will start in Brazos county Saturday. The rats doubtless are hoping for another Robert Burns.

In many important positions of government a man has to give bond. Within the ranks of the Republican party he has to take bond.

After hearing both Durant and Browne our citizens should be in excellent intellectual shape for the depressing summer.

We knew that youth was restless in the spring, but how do you account for earthquakes?

The government needs Youngblood.

The scripture lesson for this text is found in several passages, Matthew 6:14-15; Mark 3:20-30; Luke 12:9-10; Hebrews 6:4-8; and I John 5:16-17. I come to you to speak on a subject that does not exist. Nowhere does God single out one sin as the one great transgression which having been committed, places man beyond redemption in this world or the world to come. The idea of the unpardonable sin comes about from an erroneous interpretation of one of the passages just read. There is not one unpardonable sin, but four unpardonable sins that stand out and I would have you follow with me.

First is the sin designated by the direct word of Jesus Himself as unpardonable, the sin of unforgiveness. As we forgive, so will the Father forgive. So long as there is the spirit of unforgiveness in the heart, that heart is wrong according to the direct authority of Jesus. It is well enough if we are crying to the Father for forgiveness, that we be willing to forgive our brethren their trespass against us. Those who would hold in their hearts those things I care not what it may be, to the point that they can not forgive and will not are guilty according to the scriptures. That one can carry to the grave such a hard unforgiving spirit gives evidence that there has been no regeneration.

Forgiveness—what is means for Christian men and women that they can stand and, in the same spirit of Christ, pray for their malifactors. Is it possible that anyone can wrong like you have wronged God? Yet ye pray "Father, forgive us and show us mercy." Never can we be forgiven so long as we hold stubbornly the spirit of unforgiveness in our hearts.

The second unpardonable sin is the sin of apostasy. Written in unequivocal language it is unpardonable. However there can be no such thing as sacred today, lost tomorrow, saved today and lost tomorrow, and such belief is false. If ever man fell away it would be impossible to be reinstated unless Christ came again to die. There is no sin, the sin of apostasy, anywhere to be found in this book.

Attributing the work of the Holy Spirit to the devil is the third sin I would designate as unpardonable. In the passage just read, Jesus shows us the fallacy in that a house cannot exist divided against itself. Let me explain to you the rational. Jesus stripped Himself of all of his glory and power and took on the form of a servant. He did things and worked wonders only through the power of the Holy Spirit. He was the son of man, the lowly man of sorrow acquainted with grief hence He could say whatsoever you say of me, it shall be forgiven you, but the power through which I do these things you may not blaspheme. For that you will not be forgiven neither in this world, not the world to come. No man who desires the Holy Spirit can be saved as long as he holds on that belief if he knows the full import of what he professes. The Holy Spirit is the active agent of the God-head, has been and always will be the powerful one. Is it possible to man may come some hour that he will commit this sin? I tell you no for this attitude is the clumination of a life steeped in rebellion that goes on and on until it will deny the Holy Spirit and rebel against God and all that is high and holy.

The last, the sin of unbelief is unpardonable. Jesus promises the coming of the Holy Spirit into the lives of men. It comes to convict men of their sins and turn them to Christ for salvation. When the Spirit comes bearing witness of the efficacy of the death of Christ and then man hardens his heart and turns to speak lightly and deal slightingly with the Holy Spirit he will not enjoy forgiveness. How can God reach that man who hardens his heart, stiffens his neck, and turns his back on His promises disbelieving them? The moment you will turn away from your unbelief you are forgiven and for eternity are made a child of God.

You hear people worrying whether or not they have committed the unpardonable sin. I say to you the fact that they would be concerned about such a matter is prima facie evidence that they have not. For in the words of God Himself tell us that the soul is so steeped in sin that he is devoid of feeling, past any sense of remorse. No power can save you if you will not believe, and when you come into the judgment you will find yourself condemned because your name is not written in the Lamb's book of life because you have not believed. If you hear that knock at your heart tonight do not go away hardening your heart, putting it off until tomorrow, and remain with the sin of unbelief against your name.

Satterwhite Motion Denied

Motion for a new trial in the case of Elwell Satterwhite, who recently was given a 35-year term here on a charge of criminal assault, was overruled by District Judge W. C. Davis late Friday afternoon after a three-hour hearing here.

Lamar Bethea, attorney for defense, and Law Henderson and W. E. Neeley, attorneys for the State, were the principal actors in the hearing which proved almost as sensational as the recent trial.

The defense attempted to prove by testimony of witnesses that two of the jurors in the trial, Mal Stabler and Roy Foster, had expressed opinions as to Satterwhite's guilt before the trial of the case. The former jurors when called to the stand, denied the allegations.

Judge Davis immediately overruled the motion for a new trial after the close of the hearing.

The appeal will now be carried to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin and Satterwhite was remanded to jail here.

School For Dairymen And Milk Producers To Be Held In Bryan Near May 15 Auspices Local Clubs

At a recent meeting of the City Commission $400 was appropriated to defray expenses of a part of the members of Bryan's Volunteer Fire Department to the annual convention which will be held this year at Denton some time during the month of June.

About the 15th of May a school for dairymen and milk producers will be held in the City of Bryan. This school will be under the auspices of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce, United States Public Health Service, Texas State Board of Health, State Association of Sanitarians, A. and M. College Extension Service, City Health Department and the Dairymen and Milk Producers of this section.

The program will be arranged for the farmers, dairymen and milk producers of Bryan and Brazos county and other surrounding counties. The Standard Milk Ordinance; Why Health Certificates for Dairymen and Food Handlers Are Necessary; The Dairy Farmer; The Dairy Barn; Bringing the Small Dairy up to Standard Requirements; Health Value of Milk; A Discussion of Bacteriological Tests and Display Specimens; Selection of Cows from the Standpoint of Production and Breeding; Diseases of Dairy Herds; are all among the subjects which will be presented at this meeting. On the program we find members of the State Board of Health, members of the A. and M. Extension Service, City Health Officer, Local Dairymen, County Health Nurse and many others of national as well as state repute.

Invitations will be mailed to city and county officials, dairymen, milk producers and milk handlers of Grimes, Robertson, Burleson, Washington, Madison, Milam and Leon counties.

The week of April 1 to 8 has been set as annual "Clean-Up" week for Bryan, state-wide health and clean-up week has been designated for the same period. The various organizations of the City are asked to join in public health and fire preventative measures.

Bryan's fire losses for 1927 amounted to $40,952.86 paid out by the old line Insurance companies and net premiums paid in amounted to $100,369.06. The three-year period losses were $312,930,79 while the net premiums were $288,806.63. Making Bryan's loss ratio 1.08 per cent which carries a 15 per cent penalty. The loss ratio for three year period ending 1926 was 1.09 per cent and carried a 15 per cent penalty. These figures only represent insurance carried in old line and stock companies and do not represent that paid into the mutual companies nor loss sustained by mutual companies. Actual losses and premiums would probably double the figures given above.

The city commission has set aside a lot in the city cemetery to be used by the Brazos County Federation of Missionary Societies. This space will be used to bury the dead that will come under the care and attention of this society. It is understood the spot will be beautified and a monument erected by the federation.

City has appropriated $50 for use in campaign against rodents inside the city.

Crowded Conditions Of The Bryan Public Schools Are Discussed By Supt. Durham At C. Of C. Meeting

Need for the relief of the crowded conditions of the schools of Bryan was discussed thoroughly this morning at the meeting of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce. Superintendent H. L. Durham made a stirring address on the subject, which led to a discussion of the situation. He said that unless new buildings are constructed before next September, the Bryan schools would be greatly handicapped. This condition he said, would apply both to the white and negro schools.

A. L. Butler of Houston, representative of the International Harvester Company, spoke on the subject of dairying in Brazos county. This county is well adapted to dairying and has a great opportunity in this line, he said, on account of the dairying department of A. and M. College and its able director, J. A. Clutter. His talk was well received by the directors. President J. Webb Howell expressed himself as strong for dairying in this county.

D. L. Wilson, chairman of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention committee, reported that plans were being worked out and meeting with much encouragement. He called every director and citizens of Bryan to write letters in behalf of Bryan.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, chairman of the Entertainment committee, reported that her committee had met and had voted to give a banquet in honor of visitors and visiting delegates to the Parent-Teachers' Association convention which meets here in April.

Chairman W. S. Howell of the Agricultural committee reported that there would be a mass meeting on the rodent campaign here next Saturday.

W. H. Cole, chairman of the City Development committee reported that he would have a definite report on the Bryan street paving next week.

W. S. Barron, chairman of the Highway committee, reported that his committee would use every effort to secure right of way on Highway No. 6, from the east end of the concrete road this side of the Navasot, to the Robertson county line, in making a highway 80 feet wide. This was done in order that the Highway committee could better maintain the highways and be prepared for topping of the roads.

The following were present: N. B. Allen, George A. Adams, R. V. Armstrong, W. S. Barron, F. C. Bolton, W. H. Cole, J N. Dulaney, Eugene Edge, H. O. Ferguson, Tyler Haswell, J. Webb Howell, W. S. # Gardening Time In Bryan Again

Gardening in the front and back yards of Bryan, is at this particular time, the order of the day. Vegetables are being planted in the back yards and flowers in the front yards, home makers vieing with each other in the artistic arrangement of their garden plans.

One Bryan woman with visions of civic beauty well established in her head is converting an old chicken house in her back yard into an out-door reception room, "where," she proudly announces, "I shall meet and entertain my callers during the balmy spring and the heated Summer afternoons." Because of crowded conditions on the premises, this Bryan woman sold the few chickens that she had, and conceived the idea of the "garden house" instead. The roof of the old house being in good repair, the side walls were torn away, and the wire used to make artistic trellis for the vines, which are already planted and growing. A floor of planks laid flat on the ground she will cover with a bright grass run, several old chairs have already been given a brilliant coat of paint, hanging baskets and a small table, complete, to date the list of furniture for this out door sitting room.

As the spring days come, Bryan folk will watch with interest the development of this idea of civic improvement in one of the side-back yards of the city. Watch for it and tell the little woman who is working so hard to make it attractive that she has added another beauty spot to Bryan.

Calwdell, with Mrs. Rigby with them in their car were driving across Main street, when P. H. Hensarling, driving in a coupe came down Main street going north. Neither driver saw the other, it seemed, until the cars had collided, the crash bending one fender on the Caldwell car and doing considerable damage to the coupe driven by Mr. Hensarling. Mrs. Rigby was thrown from the rear seat to the floor of the car, but not hurt, and no one else received a scratch. It was a narrow escape for all parties.

NO SMITH-BROWN

Yesterday afternoon some young self-appointed news-gatherer without portfolio, telephoned The Eagle that Louis Dale Smith, a senior architectural student of A. and M. had married Miss Alma Brown of Caldwell Sunday afternoon. The news-gatherer was entirely without facts. Activities of the world are based upon confidence, from writing a check to joining a church, and those who would commit purjury in this way are no less guilty than those convicted in the courts of justice.

Feed Protein Supplement

E. R. Eudaly, swine specialist of the Extension Service, states that if the hog is fed a protein supplement the hog will neither eat chickens nor root up the grass. It is the balanced ration, says Mr. Eudaly, that the hog wants and not chickens. Ask your county agent to give you this protein supplement formula, if your feed dealer does not have it ready prepared. One pound of the supplement fed to each hog, regardless of size or age, each day will solve your feeding problems, as you need not be concerned about other kind of feed fed to the hog if it gets this one pound of the supplement each day.

Prune Fruit Trees

The Steele's Store club boys had a very profitable day last week with the county agent pruning fruit trees. The boys learned how to balance up the tree, how to make the cut close up to the tree, how to "dehorn" old trees, etc. Peter Catalina complains that he was not permitted to get in on this field day, and serves notice that he wants to be included in the next field day. Peter enjoys the reputation of being the champion pie eater of Brazos county, but he says he has given up pie eating, evidently seeking honors in higher endeavors. "Man liveth not on bread alone."

Terracing Rules

It is observed that many terraces along the roads have weak places, oftentimes breaks, which will mean disaster if heavy spring rains come. No terrace is stronger than its weakest place. Remember, your terrace should be two feet high and twenty feet wide. If they have not these specifications, blame your work and not the terrace. Always put the row on top of the terrace. When you change your rows you will observe that every other year you will have two wide rows in order to keep the row on top of terrace. Watch terrace outlets. Don't let them "cut" back into your field. Stop up ends with brush, etc. Watch the other fellow, L. T. Wilson of Tabor, for example.

Use Harrow

Don't let your fields form a crust after rains. Use the section harrow to break the crust and conserve moisture. The harrowing is good for both corn and cotton. Swat the rat in every nook and corner of Brazos county. Count the tails.

Already the question has been raised, "Where will there be a room large enough to hold these hundreds of stalks of cotton?" However, Brazos county has a chance to win this fine prize and it will be worth our effort to try for

The body was sent overland, Wednesday, under direction of McCulloch-Dansby, funeral directors of Bryan, to the family home at Macy, where the funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Interment was made in the Mills cemetery, Macy. Besides her parents, the deceased is survived by four brothers and three sisters: Robert, Henry, Earl and Burl Manning; Pauline, Billie May and Marjorie Manning, all of Macy.

Sankey Park's Jewelry Store.

One $50.00 Benruss Diamond set Wrist Watch, purchased from and on display at Sankey Park's Jewelry Store.

And as many cash commission checks as there are active club members in this district.

In this manner everyone who enters has an equal and fair opportunity of winning one of the big prizes.

Open To Everyone

The mammoth Opportunity Club inaugurated today by The Eagle is open to everyone residing anywhere in the prescribed territory, men and women and boys and girls of the ambitious sort.

It does not make any difference whether you live in the city of Bryan and right around the corner from The Eagle office or if you live on a rural route outside the city of Bryan or some comunity or town in any of the counties adjoining.

And best of all it is a spare time proposition, spare time effort will bring big dividends from the opportunity club and your spare time spent in any other way during the next six weeks could not bring you a reward as dazzling or as profitable as is offered you here.

Objects of the Club

The four main objects of the Opportunity Club are as follows:

1. To advertise jointly this representative newspaper and the splendid line of automobiles and merchandise carried by the automobile dealers and merchants represented in the prize list, whose names appear in the big double page advertisement in this issue.

2. To familiarize everyone within Bryan's trade area with the interesting and appealing features of The Bryan Daily and Weekly Eagle.

3. To increase the quality circulation of The Bryan Daily and The Bryan Weekly Eagle, so that it may better serve the merchants and the public of this area.

4: Offering to all who enter the Opportunity Club an unequaled and liberal compensation for boosting and helping to build the circulation of The Eagle.

Easy To Enter

One of the big and different features of the Opportunity Club is that will be no long drawn out affair—only a few short weeks, 6 in all. Long enough to get the required results and for you to win one of the two fine cars, but not long enough to become tiresome or tedious.

There is no red tape connected with the Opportunity Club, each and every award is for honest effort in helping to build the circulation and prestige of Texas' fastest growing newspaper.

It costs nothing to enter, to compete, nor to win the award of your heart's desire in the magnificent list of prizes. You do not risk even your time, for remember that everyone who enters will be paid a cash commission of 20 per cent of their new subscription sales, should they not win one of the two cars or a district award. This statement and the whole announcement is backed by The Bryan Daily Eagle and the publisher guarantees it to be absolutely true.

The opportunity is a big one, one of the very biggest of your whole life, the awards never before equalled and has been created especially for your town and you.

Now Is the Time

Now turn to the big display advertisement in today's paper and find your entry blank. Clip this blank, fill it out and bring or mail it at once to the Opportunity Club Manager at The Bryan Daily Eagle office and you will be started towards the ownership of either one of those two wonderful cars.

Join the Opportunity Club today—now—and get your share of all these valuable awards. Remember that early work will win, so nominate yourself or a friend today.

Come down to The Eagle office and see the club manager at Opportunity Club headquarters and talk it over with him, he will be glad to give you full details of the campaign and show you how to get a flying start. The phone number is 36, and the office will be open each night until 9 o'clock.

Now for the shears, clip your entry blank and—

Let's go!

Carpets Being Placed In New LaSalle Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hogan and little son have come to Bryan from San Antonio to make their home for several weeks. They are domiciled at Mrs. L. H. Tucker's. Mr. Hogan is here a representative of the Albert Pick & Co. of Chicago, who are furnishing the new LaSalle Hotel. Mr. Hogan is superintending the laying of the carpets. Work begun on laying them today.

VISITS IN BRYAN

Buying in Bryan

With Nell Bentley

Dear Shoppers:

It is scarcely two weeks until we will be entertaining the Ninth District Parent-Teacher Association in its Annual Spring Convention, right here in Bryan and College Station. This means that we will have as guests in our homes and in our city, some three or four hundred women from neighboring towns and rural districts; and all Bryan will be "putting its best foot forward" to extend a cordial welcome and sincere hospitality to our visitors.

Most of the shops in Bryan have already done their Spring Housecleaning, and every shop window will be dressed up in courtesy to those attending the convention. Yards and flower gardens in general are slated for manicuring and paring down wherever necessary to present our love of civic beauty; the scars and seams of recent gas line activities, while temporarily marring the beauty of our lawns, are indicative of a civic progress that could not otherwise be accomplished. Inside the house, we will be freshening up a little here and there, and then we may as well have our new Spring frocks and hats now, so that we will not appear out of keeping with the progress of the town.

You will find all the little helps to house-cleaning and other "dress-up" accessories for the house and yard, as well as the newest and prettiest of everything that goes to make up the feminine wardrobe; if you will just shop around a bit with your home-town merchants. Many of the things you have been thinking about are advertised right here on our own shopping page. Don't forget that the family car ought to be running "top-notch" too; for we shall want to take our visitors out to A. and M. College several times during their stay here, and it will be important that there be no delays if our convention is to move on schedule time. Some of our advertisers are in the business of making automobiles move gracefully. Let them take care of your repair and service work now so that you will not embarrass your guest and yourself during the convention. Yours for Better Shopping Service.

NELL BENTLEY.

P. S.:—Thanks for the many compliments from both buyers and merchants, regarding our page of last week. Several of the men folks lost bets about their wives reading all the News Story "Ads." In most cases they did, and wondered why there were not more to read.

Let me tell you what I learned about the new Buick, when Mr. Allen at Bryan Buick Co., let me "play-like" I was driving one of the new models. Woman like, I saw first the dignity and beauty of the interior finish. The silver appointments for doors and windows are a work of art, and I found that the window pulleys are ball bearing, absolutely noiseless, and require only the slightest touch to operate.

We have learned the advantage of having working surfaces in our home just the proper height, so that we always stand in a natural position. This same principle is applied in the steering and driving apparatus of the Buick. Both the wheel and the clutch, may be adjusted so that one sits in a natural position, and should never feel tired or cramped from driving even in heavy traffic. Gas, lights, horn, headlights and courtesy light; all operated from a small control head on the wheel. You will rest as you go if you go in a Buick.

W. E. Johnson Jr. showed me the Crosley "Icy-Ball," and I said, "Wonders never will quit ceasing." This is a mechanical refrigerator that does not require electricity to operate, and yet the principle of refrigeration is the same one used in commercial ice plants and power refrigeration: that of rapid evaporation. The strangest feature of this new and successful device, is that your cook stove becomes your ice man. You'll not believe it, until you see it, but it is both practical and successful. See the "Icy-Ball" demonstrated at Cole's Grocery.

I found Sankey Park arranging to his own satisfaction, some new silver that caught my eye for real value. It was a gift group, selected to reflect individuality and taste on the part of the giver. One especially dignified and artistic design, he said was Reed & Barton's No. 4050. This be has in a wide range of pieces, including six piece tea service, goblets, trays, pitchers, platters, vegetable dishes, and individual pieces in sets. Solve your gift problems at Park's Jewelry Store.

Out at The Home Oil Company, Jack Sandifer gave me a little booklet from which even a woman may learn the practical points about keeping a car properly oiled. Drive out the next time you need gas or oil, and he will be glad to give you one if you ask for it. Most of us merely learned "what to pull, and what to push," when we learned to drive; and we should know a lot of things that would lengthen the life, and reduce the upkeep of our car. Poor lubrication means danger to your car. Use Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil, and let The Home Oil Station tell you how. They carry lubricants adapted to all makes of cars in all stages of age and wear; and will sell you the right kind in the proper quantity to give 100 per cent efficiency.

Wilson Bradley's are showing Spring shoes, with short vamp and slender heel in imported French kid. The newest shades are Iris Mauve, and Honey Beige. There is a dainty, different, new finish which Linton Robinson tells me is called "Smocking."

You will always find unusual values at Parks Furniture Store, for Mr. Parks chooses his stock very carefully. He says, "Business increases but my floor space remains the same." A small floor space keeps operating expenses low, and gives his customer the advantage of lower prices. This week Mr. Parks is featuring a three piece overstuffed Living Room Suite, consisting of Davenport, Croxwell chair and Club chair, in a popular mulberry and taupe brocade. A $135 value at $100. Look it over.

W. W. Hall has a wood and furniture finishing shop on South College Avenue, where you may have your enameled or laquered furniture refinished to look like new. Their spray finish room is equipped to apply special Sherwin-Williams laquer and enamel. We know that the spray method gives a much more even and perfect finish than we can get at home with the old brush method. You can have high lighting and shading done here, in pastel tints or the darker shades.

It is easy to find your favorite brands at Piggly-Wiggly, for they are always in the same place and in plain sight. There is no argument about what you buy. When you suit yourself you have pleased the management. Griff Cloud says he heard that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," but both blondes and brunette seem to prefer Piggly-Wiggly; so he is very careful not to show any partiality. High quality and low prices for all.

Judge Ferguson says they can't be bothered over at Stephan Ice Co. just because the weather gets flirtatious for a day or two. They realize that summer is just around the corner, and they are getting ready to dispense the same brand of service their customers have always demanded. Their entire equipment is receiving "the once over" in preparation for summer trade. "Remember that we put the ice in service," said the Judge. Call them at 51 for ice.

Evidence that Spring has already arrived, may be had at the Bryan Nursery and Floral Co where energetic citizens are selecting the bedding plants that have to wait for warm weather. If you feel the gardening urge, there are petunias, verbena, lantana, geraniums, snapdragons, and salvia; all ready to set now. Easter Lilies will be at prime for Easter Day; and ask Mr. John to let you see the beautiful Bougainvillea. He has lovely sweet peas, calendulas, carnations and snap-dragons; home grown, for cut flowers.

Mr. Haswell surmises that folks in Bryan are going to "listen in" on the Democratic Convention in Houston this summer, and he doesn't see the use of "getting all het up about it." His suggestion is that you install an Atwater-Kent radio and enjoy the convention right in your own home. Ask the neighbors in and have a pitcher of ice-water handy. Our memory goes back to the convention held in Madison Square Garden four years ago, when the family and the neighbors took turns at the head phones. With loud speakers it will be no "one at a time proposition" this year. In solving the problem of music in your home, either the Attwater Kent Radio or the Victor Phonograph will give you the best to be had. They sell and demonstrate these at Haswell's Book Store.

A friend of mine visited a beauty parlor recently and was highly indignant because her husband failed to notice that her wrinkles were all ironed out. A few days later she had the misfortune to crumple a fender on her brand new car. She let Hy T. Schovasja "iron the wrinkles out" this time, and was more than delighted that her husband never even discovered there had been any wrinkles. Mr. Schovasja is a wizard at servicing cars bruised in traffic accidents.

ner has been acting head of the Station. Fitted through his past experience to meet the administration requirements of the work, he has not only carried forward the program to which he fell heir but has initiated new and important services. Outstanding among the latter is water run-off and soil erosion study. This line of research affects the entire state since water is the limiting factor in crop production in virtually the whole state and the heavy losses due to off-flow of water from the land where it falls carries with it great quantities of soil fertility. The importance of this work already under way in Texas is given notice in the Sheppard bill, now before Congress, asking for $100,000 appropriation to expand the work.

Mr. Conner is a native of Texas. He was born on a farm in Falls County, Oct. 20, 1881. To his B. S. degree in agriculture received from A. and M. in 1904 he added M. S. degree in the same course in 1923. Among his outstanding accomplishments as a member of the staff and as an official of the Experiment Station, is probably his contribution to the development of grain sorghums as a forage crop. While at the Chillicothe forage crop testing station he was in charge of testing for suitability to the region of the greatest collection of sorghums ever brought together, some 2500 varieties from all parts of the world. He made the initial tests of sudan grass, discovered its particular adaptability as a forage crop in American agriculture and was largely responsible for its successful distribution and its popular acceptance.

He made the initial tests of feterita and directed its distribution and improvement and was responsible for numerous improvements and developments brought about with the principal varieties of grain sorghums grown in the West at the present. He also was instrumental in directing and participating in the extensive testing of the value of cotton in Northwest Texas and the ultimate rapid development of this large cotton growing region of the state.

Mr. Conner is a member of the American Society of Agronomy, the American Genetic Association, and is the author of numerous publications dealing with Texas Agriculture.

Funeral Services Are Held On Sunday Afternoon For Rev. W. J. Meads Who Died On Saturday Night

The sad news of the unexpected death of Rev. W. J. Meads at his home in this city, Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock, came as a shock to his family and many friends, and today sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones in their sorrow.

All day Saturday, Rev. Meads seemed in his usual health, jolly and talkative and about his usual habits. Saturday evening he ate supper with the family, sat with them until bed time and retired at the usual hour. About 11:30 o'clock, Mrs. Meads awoke and noticed that her husband was breathing unnaturally and labored. She tried to arouse him, but being unable to do so, called her daughter Miss Renie Meads to his bedside and by the time the wife and daughter together had tried to awaken him, death had claimed him. A doctor was called, but it was too late.

William Joseph Meads was born in the state of Georgia, August 24, 1855, was 74 years and 7 months of age. As a minister of the gospel, and a devoted member of the Missionary Baptist church, Rev. Meads served his Lord with a true and loyal service throughout his long life and today, in his passing, those who knew and loved him best are comforted by the assurance of his claim to the everlasting promise, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." Rev. Meads came to Texas in 1882, and had been a resident of Brazos county and of Bryan for the past 46 years. During that time he had served as pastor of the Missionary Baptist churches at Thompson Creek, Peach Creek and Black Jack church in Brazos county. At the time of his death he was a beloved member of the College Avenue Baptist church of Bryan and his pastor, Rev. Roy S. Hollomon conducted the services at his funeral held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the family home on east 27th street and Tabor Avenue, and also at the grave in the City Cemetery where interment was made. McCulloch-Dansby, funeral directors, were in charge of all arrangements at the funeral. Flowers in fragrant abundance covered the new made grave and were beautiful tributes from many loving friends of the deceased and his family.

Deceased is survived by his life companion, four daughters and two sons; Mrs. E. Zimmerman, Mrs. R. N. Elliott and Miss Renie Meads, all of Bryan; R. C. Meads of Bryan, and W. F. Meads of College Station.

Active pall bearers at the funeral were: M. L. Minter, H. R. Price, J. B. Sanders, W. C. Bailey, Lock McNeeley, J. Marshall Bullock.

Honorary. R. B. Grant, Jas. H. Mathis, S. H. Brockman, C. A. Buchanan, W. S. Martin, J. W. Dyer, and Chas. B. Moehlman.

Thurman Holiday Is Buried Sunday

Thurman Holiday, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Holiday of Tabor community, Brazos county, died at the family home Saturday afternoon, March 24 at 6:15 o'clock after an illness of 3 weeks duration with measles and complications.

The funeral was held from the family home Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock conducted by Rev. E. L. Brown, pastor of the Tabor Bautist church. Interment was made in the Wheelock cemetery under direction of McCulloch-Dansby funeral directors of Bryan.

Beside his parents the deceased is survived by four brothers and five sisters as follows: Robert, and Leonard Holiday of Bryan; Wilmer Holiday of Tabor, and Louis Holiday of Burkburnette. Mrs. Brown Harrison, Misses Louella, Gladys Velma and Ava Holiday all of Tabor.

Two-Year Old Child Is Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Powledge of Bedias, Grimes county, have the sympathy of many Bryan friends in the loss of their 2-year-old child, Wyvonne Powledge, who died at the home of friends in Bryan, March 26, 1928, after a brief illness. The child had been brought to Bryan for special treatment, but lived only a short time.

The body was prepared for burial by Dansby Furniture Company, funeral directors, and was taken overland to the family home at Bedias, Tuesday afternoon. The funeral was held Wednesday morning with interment in the Bedias cemetery.

President's Club Holds Meeting

Seated at four small tables, each a picture of spring lovliness with a decoration in green and white of the old fashioned bridal wreath white iris, white dogwood blossoms and hedge roses the Presidents' Club of Bryan held its March meeting, Tuesday, March 27, at one o'clock with Mrs. W. B. Cline, a beloved member, as hostess.

The luncheon tables were spread with green tissue covers over white tissue giving the clear green tints of the new spring grass, and with central placing of green crystal bowls filled with the fluffy white bridal wreath flowers, with white candles in green holders, and the luncheon service of crystal and silver, the effect as charming and beautiful. Three delicious courses were served during which Mrs. Cline dispensed charming hospitality to twelve club members and three visitors as follows: Mrs. L. L. McInnis, Mrs. J. T. Hanway, Mrs. A. M. Waldrop, Mrs. R. O. Allen, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, Mrs. W. S. Howell, Mrs. S. C. Hoyle, Mrs. M. W. Sims, Mrs. R. S. Webb, Mrs. J. E. Astin, members; and Mrs. George R. Branch of Miami, Fla., Mrs. M. B. Willis, Houston, Mrs. Woods Phillips, Jacksonville, Ill.

Campus Study Club Meets on Tuesday

A very interesting meeting of the Campus Study Club was held Tuesday. "Spanish Literature," and "Novels of the Soil," were the subjects for study.

Mrs. J. H. Hance told something of Spanish music as an introduction to the "Mexican Serenade" by Chadwick, which was sung by Mrs. M. K. Thornton and Mrs. Luther Jones.

Mrs. E. P. Humbert had charge of the program and gave some very interesting side lights on Spanish literature in her paper, "Contemporary Spanish Drama." She also told something of Ibanez's life and novels.

A comparative study of the following novels of Soil was made: Alarcon's Spanish novel, "Three Cornered Hat," Mrs. E. A. McLean; Ostenso's American novel, "Wild Geese," Mrs. F. W. Plunkett; Boyer's Norwegian novel, "Power of a Lie," Mrs. M. C. Hughes; Glasgow's American novel, "Barren Ground," Mrs. A. H. Kerns; Hamsun's Norwegian novel, "Growth of the Soil," Mrs. E. P. Humbert.

Mrs. Lucy J. S. Burt was elected substitute delegate to represent the Study Club at the Fourth District convention to be held at Baylor College, Belton, April 2, 3, 4.

PEOPLE'S

truth. What he evidently could not comprehend, however, was the fact that while all non-Christian religious have some good and some truth in them, not a single one of them, nor all of them combined, have one single bit of truth that is not found in a far richer, purer form in the Religion of Jesus Christ. Furthermore, while the non-Christians religions may have bits of truth here and there, they are shot through with great and positive and hideous evils. His statement that Christianity had been corrupted as well as the other religions is true only in a sense—in fact, Christianity has in no sense been corrupted, but corrupt men have made it appear so. Mr. Brown did precisely what he accused others of doing,—picked out the best things in the religions he favored, and left the worst things alone.

His reference to the sacrifices of God's people as "magic" reveals a lack of understanding of the religion of his own race. The sacrifices of the Temple were symbolic, they were "types and shadows pointing forward to the one great and everlasting sacrifice which the Messiah should make in offering Himself once for all for the atonement for the sins of His people."

The real underlying principles of the non-Christian religions Mr. Browne barely touched; and the real effects of such religions upon the human race, well known to any real student of religions, he apparently scrupulously avoided.

His appeal to the effect that we should not endeavor to drag men from one religious group into another was but natural for one of his rationalistic views of religion. No one could expect a non-Christian to have a Christian view of religion. Naturally he would fail to get the real viewpoint of Christianity—"The things of God can only be spiritually discerned." The Religion we Christians practice is not our Religion, but a direct revelation from God. Christians do not set themselves up as fundamentally superior to other peoples, but realize that God has "made all nations of one blood," and for His own glory. But any man with a love in his heart for his fellow beings, who has bestowed upon him a great blessing, will want his fellow men to share that blessing. Hence the Christian, having received the revelation of God in Christianity, and seeing that it is better than all others, naturally desires to impart that truth to the rest of mankind, and considers himself the humble medium through which it is to be passed on to others—but by no means forced upon them.

The difference between Christianity and all other religions may be stated in the words of Paul,—"The Spirit beareth witness with our spirits that we are the children of God." This the rationalist can hardly understand; nor can he understand that Religion can not be reasoned out, that it is a matter of faith and the quickening of the Spirit of God—for "the carnal mind . . . is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be"; neither can he understand what Paul means when he speaks the word of the Lord thus,—"Now the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him; and he can not know them, because they are spiritually discerned. But he that is spiritual judgeth all things." And again, "The preaching of the Cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God . . . .It is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent."

But, "finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honorable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virture, and if there be any praise, think on these things . . . . and the God of peace shall be with you."

We have no prejudice against Rabbi Browne, or any other individual, because he does not think as we do, but allow him the privilege that we certainly reserve unto ourselves—the right to exercise his own conscience. We merely regret that he was unable to bring us anything new on the subject of religion—and above all, knowing the unspeakable value of the Religion of Jesus Christ, which we have chosen out of all the religions of the world offered freely to us, we regret that Rabbi Browne can not, or does not, enjoy its unspeakably great blessings.
